AS A PROFESSIONAL "goer-to-meetings", it is difficult to work a great deal of enthusiasm for many of the gatherings we must attend as a newspaperman.

But last Thursday's meeting of the "general assembly" of the Citizens Advisory Committee was an exception.

Although it was midnight before adjournment came, there was not a dull moment, in our opinion, throughout the evening.

The enthusiasm of the committee members and their sincerity of purpose, as expressed in their dedicated efforts to build a better community, was contagious.

The enthusiasm just couldn't help but rub off, even on this cynical old newspaper pro.

One of the reasons that interest did not lag during the four-hour session was the skillful handling of the gavel by Don Hebard, general chairman of the Citizens Advisory Committee.

Don kept the meeting moving at a fast-pace and yet everyone who desired to be heard had an opportunity to do so, either by questions or by just plain spouting off.

It was a stimulating evening and there was a lot of ground covered, both literally and figuratively speaking.

THE "SELLING" JOBS done by the various sub-committee chairmen, Norman Paul, public facilties, Ralph Weymouth, streets, Henry Cary, parks, and Dale Scott, finance, was especially outstanding.

And effective, too, we might add.

But the highlight of the evening, of course, was the voting on the priorities of the projects that had been presented by the sub-committees.

It was apparent that the 43 voting members of the Citizens Advisory Committee who were present took their responsibilities seriously.

This was reflected in the show-of-hands balloting method that was used.

We doubt that the voting in any convention that you can name was ever done in a more considerate manner.

True the "electioneering" done for the projects was a sort of low-key compared to some of the aisle-demonstrations so prevalent in so many conventions.

But it was effective. And we have a hunch, that, if Hank Cary, as a f'instance, felt that a banner-waving demonstration was needed to "sell" the park package he presented, he would have been out there leading the parade

But Cary's sincerity, as was the case with the other sub-committee chairmen, was all the "banner-waving" that was necessary.

IN A SORT OF POST-MORTEM-WAY, we must report that there were a couple of incidents which affected us personally before the meeting started that helped make the assembly more enjoyable to

Citizen group recommends $3 million bond issues

Committee selects improvement projects on priority basis

Reluctantly but firmly members of the Citizens Advisory Committee on Thursday night slashed $1 million from the capital improvement projects that had been suggested by the various sub-committees.

In wrapping up the $3,113,000 package that will be presented to the City Council on Monday, June 12, the committee kept within the recommendation of the finance committee, headed by Dale Scott, which had specified that $3.2 million bond issue was practical and could be financed by a 40-cent tax hike.

HIGHLIGHT

Highlighting the citizens recommendation, made after six weeks of intensive study of the city's needs and fiscal position, is $780,000 earmarked for a police-city administration building and corporation yard and $883,000 for development and expansion of the city-owned Rincon Park site.

The police-administration building and the park were two of the eight projects that received the majority nod of the 43 voting members of the Citizens Advisory Committee. In all 13 projects totalling more than $4 million had been presented by the sub-committees.

The priorities that were established for the final recommendation were made strictly by the votes of the committee members.

By an overwhelming majority the citizens group also voted to cut the "package" at the eight projects to fit the finance committee's recommendation rather than eliminate certain parts of the projects and thus touch most of the bases.

The selection of the priorities followed the traditional American democratic system of majority rule with animated "electioneering" by sub-committee chairmen, Norman Paul, public facilities; Ralph Weymouth streets; and Henry Cary, parks, preceding the voting.

14 PROJECTS

There were actually 14 projects placed on the blackboard in order of their priority under their respective divisions (public facilities, streets, parks) after the sub-committee chairmen had made their first reports.

But the $350,000 item for a community center building under public facilities was deleted because it was included

City budget has deficit problem

Manager cites $53,000 needed to hold current tax rate

If $53,000 income or in savings can be developed from four possible sources before the end of August, the City of Campbell can "hold the line" on its $1.27 tax rate, according to City Manager Bob Stephens. The city manager next Monday, June 12, will present the city's preliminary budget to the City Council totalling $1,828,342.

But even should $53,000 be "found" according to city manager, the proposed budget will still remain the "tightest" in this city's history. The budget makes no provisions for additional personnel or any increases in salaries until January 1, 1968 or for an adequate reserve in the general fund.

In his budget message, Stephens explained that since 1965 the city has been faced with increasing operational costs with inadequate increases of new general fund revenues but has still maintained the $1.27 tax rate per $100 assessed valuation.

The city manager emphasized that the city must find other general fund revenue sources this year or face a tax rate increase to meet its annual operational costs.

Stephens explained, however, that the city's fiscal picture by the end of August could be improved, and a tax hike would not be necessary, if (1) the assessed valuation increases more than the city staff anticipates; (2) the reserves or surplus at June 30 are higher than estimated and (3) the state legislature gives a financial "break" to municipalities with new legislation.

Stephens also added that, although the budget he is presenting

I.O.O.F Lodge to break ground Sunday, June 11

Construction of the first new building in more than three years in the downtown area of Campbell is expected to begin with the next weeks, it was reported by local IOOF lodge officials.

Groundbreaking ceremonies will be held Sunday, June 11, at 2 p.m. for a new 5,400 sq. ft. Odd Fellows Hall at First and Campbell Ave. The modern, one story building, to be constructed of concrete block and glass, will be a much needed improvement to the "downtown" area of Campbell.

The groundbreaking is the culmination of a two year fund drive by the Morning Light Lodge No. 42, Campbell, (I.O.O.F.). Allen F. English, Past Grand Master of Grand Lodge of California, will be the master of ceremonies. Distinguished guests expected include Campbell Mayor Edward J. Rogers and Grand Lodge and Rebekah Assembly dignataries. The public is invited.

The new hall will be located next to the Blue Bell Cafe. The small building formerly occupied by Joseph Dahl, insurance, is to be demolished. The hall will feature wood paneled double doors, and attractive landscaping around the adjoining parking area at the corner of First and Campbell. The designers are S & K Associates, 1210 Camden Ave., Campbell. Construction is expected to take three months after the bid has been let.

The old I.O.O.F. Hall at the same location, was torn down two years ago. It had been a landmark at that corner for over 50 years.

Council to meet twice next week

Campbell City Council at next Monday's meeting will be presented with the preliminary budget for the next fiscal year by City Manager Bob Stephens at a public hearing for that purpose. But it will be on the following Wednesday, June 14, when the councilmen start really biting into the fiscal package.

Don Hebard, general chairman of the citizens committee, is scheduled to submit his committee's $3 million capital improvement report on Monday. But it also will be Wednesday when the details of this report are developed and explained.

The council will adjourn after Monday's

LOCAL DRAMA -- Rated as "exciting," as well as interesting, the meeting of the Citizens Advisory Committee last Thursday developed a number of dramatic moments.

In the top photo Don Hebard, general chairman, makes a ruling. Mrs. Jeanette Watson, vice-chairman, has back to camera.

In the lower photo Dale Scott, finance committee chairman, emphasizes some pertinent fiscal points using a chart (held by George Ferrier, county librarian) as an assist in his presentation.

Jim Duffield to leave Campbell C. of C.

JIM DUFFIELD --to leave

Jim Duffield, who has made an impressive record in Campbell during the past two years as executive manager of the Chamber of Commerce, has accepted a similar position in Desert Hot Springs at a substantial increase in salary, it was announced this week.

In his letter of resignation submitted to the C. of C. directors this week, Duffield explained that it was with deep regrets he had made the decision to leave for his tenure here had been "very rewarding".

He cited that the C. of C. had grown from eleventh in size in the county in the two years to fourth place. He also paid tribute to the excellent relationship between the city and the C. of C.

Although Duffield admitted that the increase in salary offered by Desert Hot Springs over what his compensation is in Campbell was "tempting", he added that of more primary concern was that the climatic conditions of the desert country were expected to be more beneficial from a health standpoint to both himself and Mrs. Duffield.

The citizens speak

The Citizens Advisory Committee last Thursday night, in one of the most interesting and stimulating meetings in the history of this community, recommended that the City Council call an election for October for a $3.2 million bond issue for capital improvements.

The Campbell Press enthusiastically endorses the recommendation of the Citizens Advisory Committee and urges the City Council accept the "package" as offered by this group of dedicated citizens.

We concede that the City Council, having access to vital information affecting the fiscal position of the city, might see fit to vary the financial projections as outlined by the committee.

But we urge the City Council to adopt the the recommendation as a whole with the specified priorities without quibbling, for never before in the history of this community has there been such a demonstration from the citizenry as to what they want their city of the future to be.

Without any question, a cross-section of the electorate has indicated their desires for the Campbell of the future and, in addition, they have also given evidence that they are willing to pick up the tab.

The committee last Thursday night, after considerable discussion, recommended eight capital improvement projects totalling more than $3 million.

These recommendations were not made on the spur of the moment, however.

More than six weeks were spent by various sub-committees in researching, studying and developing the reports that were submitted to the Citizens Advisory Committee.

Thus the decision of the general assembly last Thursday was made on the basis of the cumulative information and reports.

We submit that no City Council, no Planning Commission or no newspaper can possibly present a better "package" than that developed by this group of citizens, whose sole objective is to make a better community in which to live and work.

We concede that perhaps The Campbell Press or the City Council, or Planning Commission or the City Manager would list the "priorities" in a different manner.

Or then again, it is possible that the "package" that would have been presented by any of us would be entirely different in scope than that of the Citizens Advisory Committee.

However, we maintain that the recommendation of the Citizens Advisory Committee encompasses the feeling of the people of this community and because of this "feeling" this mandate must be recognized.

It is the people, after all, who must be satisfied.

It is the people who will pay for the projects.

This group of citizens, representing every area of this community, acted under direction of the City Council. The recommendation of this group should receive the endorsement of the City Council and the people who so conscientiously served on the committee should receive the council's sincere commendation for a job well done.

We have long maintained that this community can and will move forward whenever the citizens vigorously and enthusiastically become involved in its destiny.

The attitude of the Citizens Advisory Committee and the results the members have produced have shown us that the citizens of this community ARE interested in their town.

The citizens who have worked so hard to come up with a recommendation for a capital improvement bond issue, which is not only practical but also accomplishes the objectives, have indicated that they will continue to serve the city in working for the passage of the bond issue they have recommended.

What we are trying to say is that never before in the history of this community has such an attitude on the part of the citizens been manifest.

And what we are also trying to emphasize is that the City Council should recognize this spirit and wholeheartedly endorse their efforts. No matter how thin one slices it, a city is only as good as the citizens who live in it.

The Campbell Press, during the six weeks in which the citizen committee members were studying the various phases of the city's capital improvement program, deliberately refrained from making suggestions as to what this paper considers the top priority in the projects.

We were confident from the start that the group of citizens who were researching all facets of the overall situation would present a practical program.

And we have not been disappointed.

It was refreshing and exhilarating to observe these people in action.

There were no axes to grind.

The one objective of all was to do what was best for the community.

And you can't beat that attitude.

So, that is what we are trying to say and trying to tell the City Council.

us.

Mrs. Arva M. Knowles, a long-time resident of Campbell and vitally interested in the work of the committee, informed us before the meeting started that she had noticed a car in the parking lot had its lights on.

She suggested that we contact the chairman so the proper announcement could be made and the poor motorist be saved from a dead battery when the meeting was over.

It was not necessary to make such an announcement.

It was our car.

AND TO MRS. KAY GREEN, efficient secretary to City Manager Bob Stephens, must go the credit for the pictures that were taken at the meeting.

We don't mean that Kay actually took the pictures but it only was because she was able to dig into her purse and find a bobby pin that we were able to fix our camera so that it could be used.

Kay, who has done a commendable job of keeping the records for the Citizens Advisory Committee, must also be given credit for still another accolade at the general meeting.

She volunteered the services of her husband, Harald, to do the tallying at the blackboard when the priorities were selected.

And Harald did an excellent job, as those who were present will testify.

A GOOD ILLUSTRATION to show how people don't always see things in the same light was made recently by Bill Oltmann, local accountant.

The subject of the depth of Vasona Lake came up in our conversation.

Bill mentioned that only in a few spots in Vasona Lake was the water over a person's head. He explained that he knew this from personal experience. He had been dunked from a canoe once and he walked to shore.

You see what we mean by that it's all a matter of relativity.

Bill happens to be about six-foot-six in height. We have to concede him about a foot of water.

This has nothing to do with water, but, incidentally, Bill has moved into his new office building on Winchester. The building is of the Mexican motif in design, with the four office suites opening off the court-yard.

Cactus plants have been planted in the courtyard and, for the record, Oltmann has raised cacti as a hobby for years at his Robin Lane residence. Many of the plants have been transplanted to the office patio.

We understand that Bill's wife, Pat, was highly pleased that Bill found a spot to use the excess cacti around the house.

We wouldn't be a bit surprised that perhaps this idea of Mexican motif for the office building stemmed from Bill's over-abundant supply of cactus at his home place.

After all, you have to put that cactus some place and Pat was probably tired of seeing it around her house.

City budget

is one of the "tightest" on record, and emphasizes "austerity", the City Council conceivably could reduce it more.

The city manager also pointed out that he anticipated a record low increase in the assessed valuation for the city as a direct result of the tight money and low rate of new construction last year.

Stephens, in his report, explained also that the population during 1966 has not shown any appreciable increase from the 21,600 figure. The bright spot in the picture, he adds, has been the city's sales tax income but the increase in this income has not been enough to bear the burden alone for increased operational costs.

Stephens also commended the department heads for submitting minimum budget requests. However, the city manager said he was forced to reduce even these minimum requests by $163,000.

In arriving at the budget figures, Stephens has estimated that $523,700 will be received from property taxes; $435,000 from sales tax and $602,255 from other sources for a total estimated income of $1,560,955. Of this total, $174,000 is from gasoline tax earmarked only for improvement of major streets.

Surplus in all funds at the end of this fiscal year is estimated to be $507,500 but Stephens said that only $10,000 of this amount will be in the general fund. If this is a low estimate, he points out, the deficit can be cut proportionally.

The city manager reported that copies of the preliminary budget are available for study at the city hall and a series of public hearings will be held by the City Council before final adoption.

City Planners approve new devopment on Hamilton Ave.

In an impressive presentation of future plans for the location, Lowell Grattan, local developer, assisted by his associate Fred Chez, won approval of the Planning Commission Monday night for a zone change on property on W. Hamilton and Llewellyn avenues.

The property, owned by the H. Bykowski family, represented by Lowell and Grattan, was recommended to be zoned P-D (planned development) by a 4-1 vote. The plans call for the construction of a service station (the first Gulf Oil one in town), an Orange Julius outlet, a self-service market and an office building.

In making his presentation, Grattan displayed plans for the development drawn by Bill Hedley, local architect and also called on representatives of the firms committed to the site to supplement his report.

Two commissioners were absent (Chairman Jack Healey and Kel Young). Only Frank Klein, vice-chairman, cast a negative vote. Favoring the plan were Dean Chamberlin, Merrill Grim, Thayer Lyons and Ed Pack.

But, although approving the request, almost all the commissioners indicated they were doing it reluctantly. They indicated that they had hoped for a better development and were not particularly happy with approving of another service station.

Chamberlin apparently echoed the sentiment of his fellow commissioners when he pointed out that it was not really a desirable development for the shallow lots but that the commission seemed to be caught in the middle.

In other actions, the commission denied the request of Blendwell Interiors for a pole sign advertising the business to be located on the parking lot. The commissioners felt that the firm was well-enough signed at the present.

The commission granted Shell Oil six months to complete the redesign of the trash container location for the joint operation of both Spivey's and the service station at Campbell And Winchester and also to complete the landscaping of the station.

Approval was given the plans for an office building submitted by M. G. Lucke at 765 McGlincey and to Dr. Lewis Evans for a Taco Bell restaurant at 1950 S. Bascom and for an amended plot plan for Der Wiener-schnitzel at Bascom and Fewtrell.

The commission continued actions on plans submitted by Medallion Paint Service at 190 Dillon and also the public hearing on the use permit request of Quattuor Investments, which plans a restaurant and bar on Hacienda near Winchester.

The firm had requested four pool tables for the establishment and City Attorney Joe Bonacina explained that the City Council was now studying a new ordinance that would limit one such table to each bar. He suggested that the matter be continued until the Council resolved the issue.

In a final action, the commission took action in the final selection of the first recipient of the James Tomlinson Memorial Fund scholarship for students in graduate planning that has been established in memory of the long-time local planning commission.

meeting to the Wednesday session when the six-year capital improvement project will be discussed in depth both from the staff as well as the citizens' point of view.

Members of both the Planning Commission and the Parks and Recreation Commission, as well as the full membership of the Citizens Advisory Committee, have been invited to attend the Wednesday night assembly.

On Monday night when Stephens' budget is presented, it is not expected that much time will be spent in discussing the various aspects of it, including the $53,000 deficit.

Real budget studies will begin following Wednesday's gathering. The council is expected to meet next Saturday also on the budget.

Two items on Monday's agenda are expected to be highlights of the otherwise routine agenda. Jack Dawson, local attorney, is before the council on an appeal of a Planning Commission ruling denying a zone change on property at Dot and Campbell avenues.

The other item of more than passing interest will involve the proposed new city ordinance that limits one pool table per tavern or bar.

We maintain that the City Council would be doing a disservice to the community, if the recommendation of the hard-working citizens committee is modified drastically.

We agree that the outlay of funds may have to be changed because of circumstances.

BUT we emphasize that the "package" itself that will be presented to the City Council from the Citizens Advisory Committee should not be "unwrapped" or changed to any great degree by the councilmen.

A "package" that is "re-wrapped" almost always loses its effectiveness.

Warrior World

by RUSS LONG

As the end of the year approaches, activities for all classes increases sharply, but not as sharply as do senior activities. With finals, graduation and plans for the all-night party, the senior is a very busy person indeed.

This Sunday afternoon, June 11, marks the date of the first important senior activity, Baccalaureate.

The baccalaureate service is a farewell sermon to the members of the graduating class. This year's featured speaker is Dr. Wallace W. Hall. The service starts promptely at 4 p.m. in the Westmont Plaza.

Saturday, June 10, is the date set for the annual music department beach party. Open to all members of the band, orchestra, choir and glee club, the party will depart from Westmont at 9 a.m. for a day at Seacliff Beach Park. A lunch will be provided. The entourage will return to Westmont approximately 5 p.m.

Friday is yearbook day. That day, during administrative classes, the yearbooks will be passed out to the juniors sophomores and freshmen. Seniors will receive their books Thursday afternoon at Baccalaureate practice. This year's Poniard, will be blue with a gold imprinted Poniard on the cover. The Poniard is described as a sword or dagger carried by the warrior into battle.

Tonight, June 7, at 6:30 p.m. in the Campbell cafeteria, the annual Spring Sports Banquet will be held. The league championship winning Soph-Frosh track team will be honored along with the other track teams and the basketball, wrestling, baseball, golf, swimming and tennis teams.

ALL SCHOOL PICNIC

"Come one, come all", is the cry Campbell students are hearing as the Student Council prepares to put on the first all-school picnic in the history of the school. Softball, volleyball, and a gigantic bar-b-que will be featured at the event, this Friday, June 9, from 4:30 to 8 p.m.

After practicing all week how to march in and out of the auditorium, seniors will be ready for Baccalaureate, which is to be held Sunday, June 11, at 5 p.m. in the Campbell High School Auditorium. The Spiritual send-off for the class of '67 will be honored by the presence of Dr. Evelyn Berger, who will deliver the Baccalaureate address.

SONG GIRLS

Song girls for next year were chosen by a board of judges consisting of student council members, graduating song girls and cheerleaders, and faculty advisors. The competition was fierce, giving these happy winners reason to be proud: Kathy Bumstead, Melanie Knight, Linda Kuhns, Janice Maruyama, Carolyn Melvin and Lisa Murray. These girls, all of whom will be seniors next year, will put together their own dance routines which they will perform to lively pep music during intermissions and time-outs.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

The Johnson Administration has requested Congress to appropriate $643 million for next year's loans and grants to South American countries under the Alliance for Progress.

It is always risky to draw conclusions about such vast programs as the Alliance for Progress on the basis of isolated bits of evidence from individual observers. But there is so much of it that a strong presumption prevails that taxpayers' money is being wasted through administrative bungling by inefficient, and probably corrupt, South American governments.

One such example recently came to me from a constituent who had been travelling in Brazil. In December of 1966 this constituent noticed a dock at Vitoria, Brazil, piled high with crates containing parts for Caterpillar tractors and General Motors trucks. The cases had obviously been there for a long time, had been broken open and separated, and the contents were being scattered. No effort was being made to protect the equipment.

The constituent provided a picture of the stored supplies which I have had duplicated and will send to newspapers in my District with this column. According to my informant the same attitude toward American aid seemed to prevail all over South America.

I sent the Agency for International Development copies of the picture and asked them to investigate. My constituent's information was confirmed. This cargo was part of 130,000 kilos (approximately 162 tons) imported by Companhia Vale do Rio Doce and financed under an AID Commodity Import loan. It comprised about 550 separate items.

The equipment was unloaded at Vitoria between June 23, 1966, and November 17. The superintendent for the importing company, Mr. Joao e Belezea, reported that he could not secure clearance from the local Brazilian customs office to release the cargo and so he was forced to pay continuing storage charges. He expressed the hope that with a recent change in Vitoria customs officials the distressed cargo could be cleared by June 1.

This incident raises several serious questions. First, if the cargo was unloaded almost a year ago, why did the Agency for International Development not investigate until May 4 and then only at my request prompted by my constituent's letter?

Secondly, was the equipment so badly needed in the first place, if the Brazilian government could refuse to allow it to be landed, especially when the government-owned Banco de Brasil had complete charge of arrival accounting, controls and customs procedures?

Thirdly, should U.S. aid be given before guarantees are posted that the equipment can be landed and properly cared for, and not allowed to rust and deteriorate on an open dock?

This incident is not isolated. Some years ago because of customs regulations the City of Palo Alto had difficulty in presenting a small bus for a children's playground in the park of its Mexican sister-city. And there are hundreds of other incidents exposed each year.

Frankly, the questions raised by these incidents must be clearly answered before this representative can support handing over $643 million of American taxpayers' money to send equipment which will deteriorate on some foreign dock doing nobody any good at all.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE
SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

Q. - I recently began operating an automobile service station, and have only one employee. A friend told me he didn't think I had to report the wages paid to this employee, for social security purposes. Is this correct?

A. - No. There is no requirement that there be a minimum number of employees. Therefore, you are required to report the wages you pay your employee.

Q. - Occasionally an employee starts to work for me without showing me his social security card, promising faithfully that he will bring it in shortly, but never does. What more can I do?

A. - Ask your Social Security Office for some Forms SS-5, Applications for Social Security Number, and also ask for instructions on how to use them in connection with your tax return. In the meantime, until you have the forms, make a record of the employee's name, address and his social security number, if he can give it to you.

Q. - When were disability benefits first payable under Social Security?

A. - Protection against the loss of earnings due to disability has been a part of Social Security since 1954, when the "disability freeze" was enacted. Monthly disability benefits, however, were not paid until July 1957, when disabled workers who were at least 50 years of age could qualify.

The age 50 requirement was dropped effective with November 1960. Since that date, monthly disability benefits could be paid to the disabled worker, provided he met the disability work requirement and the severity of disability requirement.

Q. - What is the disability work requirement?

A. - You must have at least 5 years of work during the 10-year period ending when you became disabled. The 5 years of work need not be continuous or even in units of full years. Social Security credits are counted in units of calendar quarters of the year.

You will meet the work requirement if you have credit for at least 20 calendar quarters (10 years) ending when you became disabled.

Local couple feted on fortieth anniversary

DR. AND MRS. ARTHUR L. WILLIAMS

The fortieth wedding anniversary of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Williams of Campbell was the occasion for a delightful surprise anniversary party Sunday afternoon. The affair was co-hosted by the couple's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Mitchell, and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Spencer, at whose home at 2239 Middletown Dr. the party was held.

Guests were principally intimate friends and faculty members from San Jose State College, where Dr. Williams is a member of the science department. A red and white decor was carried out, in observance of the fortieth anniversary.

The buffet table was beautifully arranged with a centerpiece featuring an antique ruby red vase with white carnations and matching candlesticks.

Guests were served pink champagne and wedding cake, decorated with red roses.

The couple's three grandchildren, Kelly, Bridgett and Andy Mitchell, were present, and Bridgett, wearing an old-fashioned child's frock of the style of the 1900's, poured.

The Williamses, who have been residents of Campbell since 1947, were married on June 15, 1927 in Olathe, Kansas. Dr. Williams recently retired as a Lieutenant Commander in the Navy. He has served as Dean at Ellsworth Jr. College in Iowa as well as other teaching and counseling positions. He served as chairman of the 100th anniversary observance for San Jose State College and as president of the California Science Teachers Association.

Mrs. Williams is a past president of the San Jose State College Faculty Wives Association. They are also members of the Congregational Church of Campbell.

Miss Donna Litynsky of Campbell, cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor. She chose a yellow gown, empire style, and carried daisies and yellow rosebuds. She wore a wreath of yellow and white daisies in her hair.

Bridesmaid, Mrs. Donna Richelderfer, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Judy Austin, Becky Bargelt and Jan Wearanga, were dressed alike in yellow and carried white daisies. The reception was held in the Fireside Room of the church. Mrs. F. A. Ellis presided over the guest book and the bride's aunt, Mrs. E. T. Litynsky was in charge of the reception. Following a honeymoon trip to Yosemite, the newlyweds are making their home in Sunnyvale.

Make-up artist to demonstrate art at Jan-Dav's

James Lazzaro, sales representative for L'Oreal of Paris will be introducing his products to customers of Jan-Dav's Coiffures, 58 E. Campbell Ave. Thursday, June 8 starting at 7:30 p.m.

The public is invited to see Lazzaro doing make-up demonstrations and will receive personal make-up analysis, according to owner-operator Mr. Mario.

Lazzaro stated that knowing how to apply your make-up will insure that every woman can now have the almost perfect face, oval shaped with unsunken, uncircled eyes, full lips and a classic nose through the art of knowing how to make the most of one's natural features through make-up.

Lazzaro learned his make-up secrets when he played summer stock and had to apply his own make-up. He is quoted as saying, "I always ask for appointment with women who need help, not the already beautiful ones."

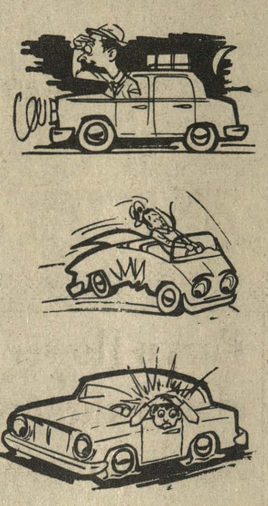
NEW HOME--Campbell Auto Parts has a larger building, and loads of parking space at their new headquarters at 130 Sunnyside Oaks Ave., just west of the Camden-San Tomas Expressway intersection, and a short way from the Winchester and Sunny Oaks stoplight.

Edward "Ed" Murphy, partner in the business, told The Campbell Press, that the new facilities gave the firm the right to claim "The largest stock (available to the drive-in customer) in Northern California. The huge storage space, combined with the consumer stock gives three times the usual stock of most auto parts stores."

The new building sports a full-service machine shop, and will cater to Do-it-yourselfers" and "Week-end Mechanics". Valve facing; Surfacing Heads; Drum Turning, etc. Also a competent staff of journeyman Parts Specialists, will be on hand to assist the uninitiated.

(The Campbell Auto Parts store was formerly located at 901 Camden)

WHAT'S A "RALLYE"?



?--A Rallye is a test of the ability of a driver (in this case: a sports car, or U.S. autos are about equally represented) and navigator to follow explicit instructions as they travel on back roads looking for specific signs and landmarks.

A clipboard, flashlight for reading instructions at night; car with a tank of gas; a navigator; pencil and a sense of "adventure!".

Most Rallyes cost $2.50 for "entry" a few are less, and the longer, more difficult, or Championship Rallyes, are more, but the "adventure" is just as "great" for the Novice, or Beginner, as for the experienced driver.

Most rallyes are designed to accommodate both the expert and the beginner contestant, with two classes, and awards in each one. (Membership in a club isn't a requirement to enter). Most clubs give each car a "Participant Plaque" to show they ran the event. Trophies and engraved plaques are often given too.

For further information, watch this paper, weekly.

DO-SEE-DO, AND 'ROUND WE GO!--These square dancers, and hundreds more, will gather in the Campbell Plaza, at Winchester and Budd Ave., Friday night, June 9, 1967, for a good old "SQUARE DANCE".

John Painter, former "Old Timer", Recording Star, will M. C. the affair, along with "Callers": Clark and Maxine Smith, with the Round Dance Program; Bob Tripp, with Krazy Dazys; Nat Sonsa with Jaywalkers; Kenny Steem, with Katydids; Joe Johnston, with See-Saws: Jerry Ferenqui, with Swinging Saints; Ken Obern, with Apple Knockers; Bill Peters, with Square Hoppers, and many more.

Over $200 in prizes will be given away during the evening, and there is no need for participants to dance, in order to win.

The program will start at 7:30 p.m., and will go until 10:30 p.m. For further information contact Joe LeDuc, chairman, at the Plaza Barber Shop in the Campbell Plaza.

APOLOGIES ARE IN ORDER--May 25, 1967 was a big night at the Winchester Lounge, pictured above, and the attractive Lounge room was filled with people having a gay time.... and...it was all because of the First Anniversary of the establishment.

The announcement was published in this paper, the day before, and a very nice picture of the Winchester Lounge, at Winchester Blvd. with the happy proprietors: Bud, and Pete Tunstall, was displayed with all of the information regarding time, place, and a free buffet. BUT WE GOOFED! We put June, instead of May, 25th! We hope that many of our readers understood our error, and went to the event...if you didn't, then, please, drop in to this attractive lounge, where an atmosphere of friendliness and utmost in service, is to be found ANY DAY, and not just during special occasions. With this, we tender our humblest apologies for our error.

Giving to the U.S.O. is not an act of absolution.

It will not even up your debt to the young Americans around the world who serve us in the cause of freedom. Give not because of what your gift will do for you, but what it will mean to them.

Give because every U.S.O. club is a friendly arm around a lonely shoulder, far from home.

Give because every visit of a traveling U.S.O. show is a word from home that says "We care!"

West Valley College plans ground-breaking at Saratoga

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the first building on the Saratoga campus of West Valley College have been tentatively set for 10 a.m. Thursday, June 22 at at 143-acre site at Fruitvale and Allendale Avenues.

Plans for the long-awaited ceremonies were discussed by the Board of Trustees of the college at its Thursday night meeting.

Dr. Wallace W. Hall, college president, said that present plans call for inviting mayors of the cities in the district, superintendents of high school and unified school districts, principals of high schools, the retiring and incoming County superintendents of schools, and other civic leaders, together with all press media representatives.

Simple ceremonies will be held, Dr. Hall said, including the pledge of allegiance, welcoming remarks, invocation, introduction of guests, remarks by the Board chairman, Robert W. Brydon, the actual groundbreaking to be participated in by college officials and representatives of the cities, and benediction.

Bids on the first building, the Engineering-Technology Building, are scheduled to be opened at 4 p.m. June 6, and will be received at a special Board meeting at 5:30 p.m. June 8.

If bids are satisfactory and in order, contracts will be let at that time, Gene Arnold, dean of campus facilities, told the Board. If not, they will be held up for further consideration the following week.

In any event, the June 22 groundbreaking date should be firm, Arnold said.

DONATION

The Board accepted with thanks a $1,000 check from J. Winter Smith, retired civil engineer and civic and church leader, for its scholarship fund.

This is the second such donation made by Smith, and will increase the number of $100 scholarships offered in his name from two to three each year.

The Board commended Smith for his continuing interest in the college, and expressed thanks for the donation.

FROM SACRAMENTO

The Board heard a report from its legislative consultant, William Henley, former superintendent of the Campbell Elementary School District, regarding legislation pending in Sacramento which may be of interest to the junior college district.

His discussion covered a wide range of bills that have been introduced and are in various stages of the legislative process, including measures relating to operation of Academic Senates, junior college constructions, credentials, a statewide junior college apportionment measures.

OTHER ACTIONS

The Board also:

1). Heard from Dr. Hall that the Bureau of readjustment education in the State Department of Education had approved the college's course offerings for the veterans' training program, thus enabling veterans to qualify for government allowances while attending West Valley College.

2). Heard that Commencement Exercises have been set for 8 p.m. June 16, probably on the front lawn of the college, and featuring Chancellor Dean E. McHenry, of the University of California, Santa Cruz, as principal speaker.

3). Heard that the Saratoga Planning Commission had approved design plans for the Saratoga campus building, and that the proposal would now go to the City Council for its action at its next meeting.

4). Approved claims totaling $16,645.49.

5). Accepted with thanks a "T-Series Breadboard System", a portable digital breadboard equipment used in the demonstration of computor principles. The gift was from the Engineered Electronics Co. Accepted, also with thanks, a gift from the architectural firm of Higgins and Root, the 1966 edition of "Sweet's Architectural File", a collection of material giving design details, and specifications for a variety of structural and architectural materials, and described by Dean Arnold as "an invaluable teaching tool."

6). Accepted a gift of an electric percolator for the faculty lounge from Sgt. and Mrs. Robert A. Reinoehl.

7). Accepted resignations of James L. Hoerner as Vocational Administrative Intern; Mrs. Jacqualine Ferrante, Community Services, and Mrs. Frances B. Randazzo, Admissions Office. Hoerner has accepted a research associateship at Ohio State University.

8). Appointed three members to the faculty for the 1967-68 school year. They are Barron R. Haley, biological science, Rita J. Storey, Home Economics, and Mary Van Peborgh, Counseling Business.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Vierhus:

Mrs. Daily and I enjoyed the opportunity to see and meet the legislators last Friday evening. We were sorry, or course, that more did not take advantage of the opportunity. I hope your group is not discouraged from another attempt next year.

While I have an editors' attention, I would like to comment on one of the subjects of discussion Friday--the Rumford Act. This legislation condescends to "grant" to the minority races a right which was theirs at birth but has often been denied by more fortunate property owners

I will agree with critics that the act probably does very little for a negro looking for a good home of his choice in a "colored' neighborhood. The negro will probably pay the full asking price while his "accepted" counterpart negotiates a better deal.

To weaken the Rumford Act is to deny that most Californians believe in fair play.

Respectfully,

Allan Daily

MORE ABOUT

Citizens list projects by priority

Committee members, as a whole, then voted on the top priorities in each category. The project getting a majority vote of the three at bat at the same time, got the nod for the final package.

There were 45 members including Don Hebard, chairman, and Mrs. Jeanette Watson, vice-chairman) eligible to vote and 23 was the "magic number".

In case if one of the three projects before them did not receive a majority on the first go-around, a run-off vote between the first and second choices was taken.

PRIORITIES

Fire station #2 to be located on city-owned land on Sunnyoaks, and for which plans have already been drafted, was selected first by the group with $221,000 as the price tag. (The city has operated a fire station from a rented house ($200 per month) in the same area for a number of years).

The second item to get the committee's approval was the police-city administration building and corporation yard for $780,000. Of this total, $540,000 was for the administration building; $140,000 for the corporation yard and $100,000 for land acquisition.

The development and expansion of the Rincon Park site totalling $883,000 for the complete package, including a $250,000 community center building, park development, $345,000 and $48,000 for planning was the third project to get the endorsement.

STREETS

The first recommendation for streets to make the grade was $220,000 for street lights and traffic signals.

That was followed by a $25,000 item as the city's share in the construction of a pedestrian overpass at Rincon Ave., and next by $800,000 for minor streets.

The minor street proposal was predicated on the premise that property owners involved in such improvements would pay one-third of the costs. Near the close of the meeting when it was found that the $500,000 major street project would not be included in the final report, acting on the plea of Street Chairman Weymouth, the committee allowed the proposal to include both major and minor streets, but refused to up the ante by $87,000.

It was also pointed out in the street discussion that the city capital improvement program adopted by the council included more than $800,000 for streets to be paid from the state gasoline tax income.

STATION #3

The seventh project approved was $134,000 for Fire Station #3 to be located in the western portion of Campbell and the eighth project receiving the blessing of the committee was for $50,000 for an off-ramp from the San Tomas Expressway at Rincon. Originally the recommendation called for $70,000 for both an on-ramp and an off-ramp at Rincon.

However, when it was explained that the on-ramp at Rincon could conceivably interfere with both the central park as well as the proposed pedestrian overpass at that location.

ELIMINATED

The five projects that were eliminated by the overall committee in the final recommendation included the relocation of the present fire station headquarters on Central Ave. to a site at Union at Campbell estimated to cost $261,000. This project gained ninth priority.

In tenth place was the recommendation for an olympic-sized swimming pool to be part of the central park complex at an estimated cost of $100,000.

Improvement in major streets not covered from gasoline tax revenue estimated at $500,000 gained eleventh position in the voting and in a show-down for last place, enlargement of the parking area at Campbell Park at $35,000 beat out quarters for the Chamber of Commerce in the civic center estimated to cost $25,000.

LIBRARIES

The Citizens Advisory Committee at the close of meeting by a unanimous vote endorsed the recommendation of the library sub-committee, headed by Rex Brush, that two branch county libraries be constructed in Campbell, each to cost an estimated $160,000.

The library committee pointed out that the library phase would not be charged against the city's bond limitation, as the libraries that would be built would be operated by the county. The city would build the libraries but they, in turn, would be leased to the county and the city thus would amortize the cost in that manner.

In another unanimous action, the committee emphasized by a show of hands that the members of their citizens group would be willing to serve in any capacity toward the eventual approval of the $3,113,000 bond issue by the electorate. This attitude, the committee members voted, should be part of the final recommendation.

COMMENDATION

The committee also in another recommendation suggested that the City Council should develop areas in which various civic groups could sponsor projects leading toward the overall beautification of the city.

The committee, also on the motion of Bob Dalzell, commended the leadership shown by Don Hebard and Mrs. Jeanette Watson during the time the committee was in existence.

NEW OFFICE BUILDING--One of the most attractive office buildings to be constructed in Campbell in recent years has just been completed at 2275 Winchester Blvd. by Bill Oltmann, public accountant in Campbell for the past nine years.

The new building has four suites of offices. Oltmann and his staff of assistants, Mrs. Pattie Hicks and Al Ray, occupy one of the units. Another is leased by West Valley Insurance and a third is soon to be taken over by the Air Force Recruiting office.

The 2800-square foot building is of stucco and slumpstone and follows the Mexican motif in design with the four offices opening off the courtyard. Bob Ferguson, local draftsman, designed the structure.

Oltmann, in 1958 first occupied a building (since demolished at 75 S. Winchester to make room for the new Aero Pharmacy) and in 1959 moved to 259 E. Campbell Ave. which he occupied until last week.

Oltmann and his wife, Pat, and three children reside at 945 Robin Ln. He served as treasurer and director of the Chamber of Commerce for six years and has been a member of the Kiwanis Club for seven.
